Dear Parents / Carers,

We are looking forward to celebrating World Book Day again which, this year, is on Thursday 7th March. We would like to invite you to join us in helping your child to make the most of this special occasion.

In the days leading up to World Book Day, all classes are being introduced to the, soon to be published, book: Bo, Zero to Hero. This book has been written by one of our former teachers – Sarah Norton – and Hugo Chandor, and illustrated by Gary Plant. The main character is Bo, a chrysalis who becomes a butterfly, who encounters various animals on his journey. The book covers many well-being topics, which fit into our focus this term.

It would be wonderful if the children could come to school on 7th March dressed in an animal themed costume. We would be grateful if you could discuss this with your child over the half term holiday.

On World Book Day, Sarah and Hugo will be coming into school to work with the children.

Also during this week the children will be participating in many exciting activities, sharing their favourite books and enjoying books with children in other classes.

We look forward to sharing another enjoyable World Book Day!

Yours sincerely

Mrs J Callaway
